MEDIA WITH A MISSION

UNCHAINEDTV is the world's only free, nonprofit streaming network devoted entirely to compassionate, plant-based living. We produce and distribute documentaries, cooking shows, news coverage, and reality series that break through the media blackout on animal rights and sustainability. Anyone can watch for free on any device.

WHY WE EXIST

To bring life-changing, eye-opening stories to screens everywhere. UNCHAINEDTV harnesses the reach of modern media to educate, awaken, and unite people through film, documentaries, and real-time coverage that inspires compassionate action.

THE FUTURE WE ENVISION

A world where compassionate, sustainable, plant-based living is the global norm—shaping our food systems, fashion, science, media, and culture, and empowering people everywhere to choose kindness over cruelty.

OUR VALUES

Compassion – We champion empathy for all beings and truth-driven storytelling.

Integrity – We report, create, and share information with unmatched honesty, transparency, and dedication to justice.

Courage – We speak truth to power, expose hidden systems of cruelty, and use media to hold institutions accountable.

Community – We unite partners, activists, creators, and viewers worldwide to accelerate cultural transformation.

Creativity – We use bold, innovative, and dynamic storytelling to break through mainstream silence and inspire change.

THE SILENCE THAT SPARKED UNCHAINEDTV

It started with silence.
Not the peaceful kind,
the dangerous kind that happens when the truth is buried,
when cruelty is hidden,
when powerful industries control the narrative.

Animals suffering where no one could see.
A planet warming while the cameras looked away.
A food system built on silence,
and the public was kept in the dark.

For decades, award-winning journalist Jane Velez-Mitchell told the stories she was allowed to tell on her HLN/CNN Headline News show. But the story she needed to tell, the one about animals, the planet, and the urgent need for compassion, was the one mainstream media refused to air.

So she did the unthinkable.

Jane walked away from a national anchor desk, picked up a small handheld camera, and stepped into the places the networks avoided: protests, rescues, vigils, sanctuaries, slaughterhouses, and the front lines of a movement rising in the shadows.

She filmed everything.
She livestreamed truth no one else would show.
And the people watching began to change.

What began as one journalist with one camera became a realization:

The world needed a streaming network for compassion.
A place where the silenced could be seen.
A place where stories could awaken hearts.
A place where truth could finally be broadcast without fear.

New Day New Chef

In 2016, Jane launched LunchbreakLIVE, a joyful vegan cooking show that unexpectedly reached millions.

It proved something powerful: When people are given access to compassionate content, they lean in.

Two years later, the project became a 501(c)(3) nonprofit with a mission to build the world's first vegan streaming network.

Momentum accelerated.

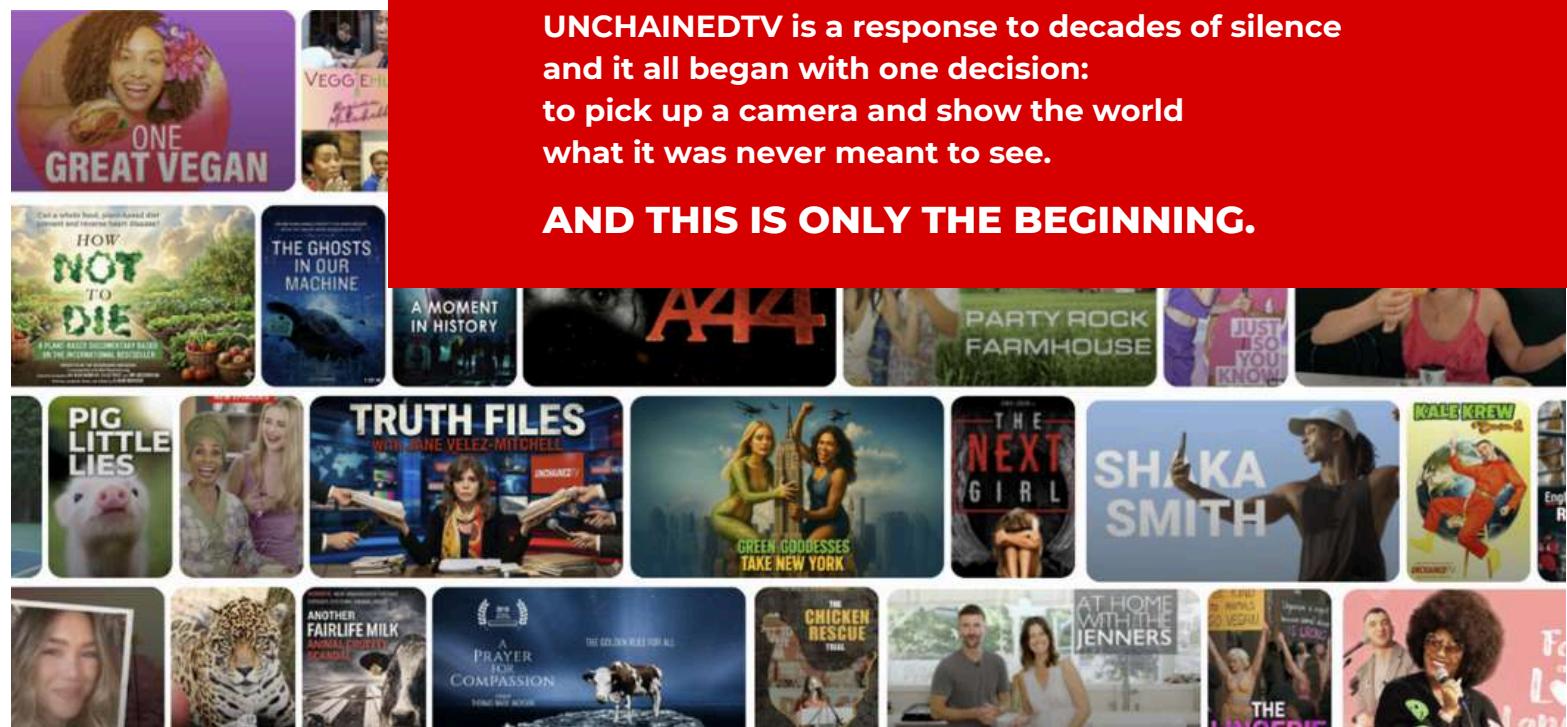

In 2020, UNCHAINEDTV released its first major original series, New Day New Chef, a fast-paced, celebrity-driven cooking show picked up by Amazon Prime, PBS, and Gusto TV, which won two Taste Awards and signaled that the world was ready for plant-powered storytelling.

And then it evolved again.

Today, UNCHAINEDTV is the world's only free, global, nonprofit vegan streaming network. A cinematic, multi-platform home to over 2,000 documentaries, activism pieces, cooking shows, investigations, reality series, breaking news, and the voices of people fighting for a kinder world for animals.

UNCHAINEDTV is a response to decades of silence and it all began with one decision: to pick up a camera and show the world what it was never meant to see.

AND THIS IS ONLY THE BEGINNING.

WHO THEY ARE

Ethically Minded

- Care about animals, wellness, and sustainability
- Open to new information
- Not fully connected values to food choices

Health Conscious

- Aspiration about health and longevity
- Want credible, positive nutrition information

Animal Lovers

- Have companion animals
- Emotionally connected to dogs and cats

Environmentally Aware

- Becoming aware of the food climate connection
- Still focused mainly on fossil fuel emissions

UNCHAINEDTV reaches viewers who already care about animals, health, and the planet, but haven't fully aligned their daily habits with those values.

UNCHAINEDTV helps close that gap, encouraging viewers to rethink food choices and move away from eating animals.

USING MEDIA TO IGNITE CHANGE

UNCHAINEDTV'S THEORY OF CHANGE

The world is facing interconnected crises: climate change, public health breakdowns, and the widespread suffering of animals. Yet, the role animal agriculture plays in all of this is largely absent from mainstream media.

Corporate interests, advertising pressure, and political influence have created a media gap where critical truths go underreported or ignored. As a result, billions of people, many of whom already care deeply about animals, health, sustainability, and justice, have not “connected the dots” between their values and their consumption choices.

Meanwhile, time is running out. With 8.3 billion humans on the planet and the climate crisis accelerating, individual conversations alone cannot create change at the scale or speed required.

The Media Gap

- Animal agriculture is rarely examined critically in mainstream news due to advertiser influence and corporate interests.
- Key connections between food systems, climate change, public health, and animal suffering are underreported or ignored.
- Investigations, trials, and frontline activism are often excluded from traditional media narratives.
- As a result, audiences are left with an incomplete understanding of the true impact of everyday food choices.

HOW CHANGE HAPPENS

Expose the Truth

Firsthand reporting brings hidden realities into public view breaking through media silence and misinformation.

Create Emotional Connection

Stories align with viewers' existing values, helping them see animals, food, and impact differently.

Normalize Plant-Based Living

Cooking shows, lifestyle content, and real people model compassionate choices as achievable and mainstream.

Reinforce & Activate Change

Consistent, trusted coverage helps viewers move from awareness to action, making compassionate food choices feel informed, supported, and achievable.

By breaking through media silence and telling the full story, UNCHAINEDTV helps people align their everyday choices with the values they already hold.

California-based 501(c)(3) nonprofit.

You can support UNCHAINEDTV with a one-time or monthly donation on our website at UNCHAINEDTV.COM/DONATE

Or, contact us at fundraising@unchainedtv.com

THANK YOU

We hope this strategic plan has given you a clear picture of what UNCHAINEDTV is, what we do, and why a nonprofit streaming network like this is essential.

At a time when mainstream media increasingly fails to cover the realities of animal agriculture, climate impact, and food system injustice, we need a network dedicated to telling these stories, clearly, consistently, and without corporate influence. UNCHAINEDTV was created to fill that gap.

With a small team and limited resources, UNCHAINEDTV has already built the world's only free, nonprofit streaming network focused on plant-based living and animal rights, reaching millions of viewers, amplifying overlooked voices, and helping people connect their values with their daily choices.

But the need is growing. As these issues accelerate and misinformation persists, the role of independent, mission-driven media becomes even more critical. With the right partners, UNCHAINEDTV can expand its investigative reporting, original programming, and cultural reach—ensuring these stories are not just told, but seen.

We are seeking supporters who believe that visibility creates change and that a network like UNCHAINEDTV is not just valuable but necessary. With your support, we can grow this platform, strengthen its impact, and help shape a future where compassion is part of the mainstream conversation.

We invite you to join us in shaping what the world sees and in helping build a future where animals are no longer ignored.

For the animals,
The UNCHAINEDTV Team
